Four Songs on Poems by Sara Teasdale for Soprano and Piano

Eric Funk (1990)

1. DOUBT

Freely - chant-like

My Soul lives in my body's house, and you have both the house and

Piano

[play melody with soprano, pedal depressed]

her - but some - times she is less your own than a wild, ad - ven - tur - er,

A rest - less and an eag - er wraith, How can I tell what she will do - Oh,

I am sure of my body's faith, but what if my soul broke faith with you?

© Copyright 2005 Eric Funk / Recital Music
Printed in the United Kingdom All Rights Reserved
4. LET IT BE YOU

mf dolce

Let it be you who lean above me on my last day. Let it be you who shut my eyelids forever and aye. Say a "good-night" as you have said it all these years, with the old look,